Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Tuesday 14 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Rain in north and west, drier in east.

Today:
Dry start in south and east. Otherwise a cloudy day with occasional rain, persistent and occasionally heavy across Highlands and Islands, especially the Northwest Highlands and Western Isles. Brighter spells northeast, east Borders. Strong southwest winds touching gale in north.

Tonight:
Generally cloudy with rain, light and patchy in south and east, heavier in West Highlands. Some clear intervals in Aberdeenshire, then the far northwest and Shetland clearing towards morning. Mild.

Wednesday:
Southern areas will stay cloudy with hill fog and some light rain or drizzle. Northern areas will be dry with sunny spells, these brighter conditions edging into northern central belt.

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Some rain for Shetland on Thursday, otherwise mainly dry, and sunny in northeast. Friday and Saturday dry, some clear or sunny spells, but far west and north probably cloudier.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.